

EDDIE’S EDITORIAL

Be sure to remember our Lads/Leaders group as they head to Nashville Thursday. We wish them the best as they develop their talents from year to year. It is always a very tiring weekend with many miles walked at the convention. Looking forward to hearing from them after they return.

Did you hear about the Elevation church in Charlotte, N.C.? This church is a mega church and when it comes to its beliefs most anything goes as long as it is pleasing to the crowd. This past week it was announced that in order to not offend anyone the words calvary, blood of Jesus, resurrection and other words would not be said during the service. With the church expecting a large number, due to Easter being this weekend, they didn’t want to offend anyone by using such words. I guess the next move is to remove such words from the Bible itself.

This is the direction that religion is taking in America. Keep watering it down till it is unrecognizable. This doesn’t bother many because all they are wanting to hear is something that gives them the warm fuzzies. When it comes right down to it they are ashamed of the scriptures. More about pleasing man than God.

It was Peter who said in Acts 5:29, “We ought to obey God rather than men.” May we always seek first to please God.

Looking forward to seeing you Sunday. Eddie

Landon's Letters

Well it is here! The weekend that so many have been preparing for since last fall. Lads 2 Leaders will be taking place all over the United States this weekend and several other places later on in April. Our teens and little children have been training in song leading, speech, and many other events they will take place in. While the competition aspect of it is fun we need to be praying that more will come from these experiences than just a trophy! Be praying that these young people will one day be able to lead the Lord's Church from gaining this experience!

We would love for you to be praying for our safety as we all travel to and from Nashville this weekend!
