

EDDIE’S EDITORIAL

If you are fortunate enough to have siblings you know that at times things can get difficult. Some call it a sibling rivalry when the competition between siblings can become fierce.

So, what if Jesus were your brother? Jesus did have siblings according to John 7:2-5. On this account His siblings were ashamed of Him and wanted Him to leave town and do His miracles elsewhere. There was just too much controversy and they didn’t want to be a part of it. On another occasion when the crowd gather at their home the family told the crowd that “He was out of His mind” (Mark 3:20-21).

But the good news is that His siblings gradually came around to believe that their brother was the Son of God. In Acts 1:14 we find a group of individuals having prayer after Christ ascended back to heaven. Among those there were His brothers. They were now believers. They had witnessed the death of their brother and now witnessed His resurrection and ascension. They were now true believers.

I suppose every family has their moments and the family of Jesus was no different. With time their faith grew into becoming strong disciples. May our faith grow as well. Eddie

Prayer list:

LARRY RUSHING had tests this week and waiting for results.

JIMMY BOGUS, Jennifer Welch’s father, is not doing well.

RANDY JONES, son of Robbie Collins, is undergoing cancer treatments in Nashville and requests our prayers.

Remember our shut-ins in your prayers: Robbie Collins, Lola M. Edwards, Linda Livingston, Jean McGee, Liz Randolph, Jo Seay, Norma Stanford.

There are trash cans at the back of the auditorium and in the foyer for disposing the communion cups and candy wrappers. It would be appreciated if you use these and not the songbook racks or pews. Thanks.

Landon's Letters

In a few short weeks our high school seniors will be walking across the stage to receive their diplomas that they have worked so hard for! When they step off of that stage they will no longer be a student in the Lamar County School systems something that they have been a part of for a huge portion of their life to this point. We want to congratulate them for achieving this milestone and we are excited to see where they go from here! One thing is for sure that if you keep God first you can go far in this life if you rely on him! Lets all join together in praying for them and their journey through this life!

Congratulations to our Lamar County High School graduates Mckenlee Bardon, Julianne Burks, Kirsten Burks, and Malik Walker!
