

EDDIE’S EDITORIAL

No doubt the coronavirus has disrupted our daily activities in many ways. One thing it has done is to make us more aware of the things we take for granted daily. One person said, “Bad times always wake you up to the things you weren’t paying attention to.”

When all of this is behind us and we get back to our normal routine, hopefully we will have a greater appreciation of all the things we have been taking for granted.

Last Sunday was indeed a day that felt strange not being able to come together for worship. I certainly missed seeing and talking to each one of you. The internet worship went well. Since this was our first time trying this form of communication there are a few things we need to improve on. Hopefully, this Sunday’s viewing will be of better quality. Thanks for your suggestions on how to make it better. If you need any communion supplies for Sunday they will be at the building in the kitchen.

Keep praying for this pandemic to pass and keep praying for each other. God is still in control and He knows our every need.

VERNON INFORMER

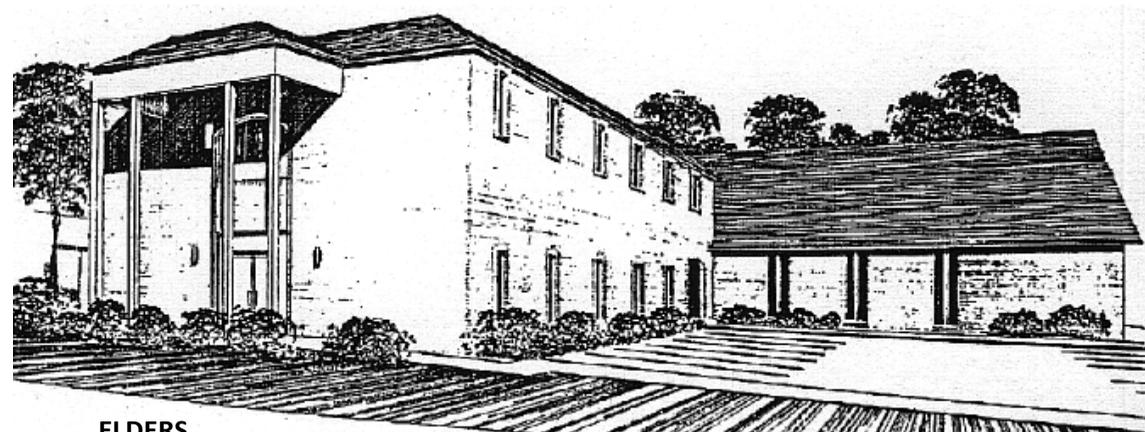

Landon's Letters

We as a nation are in a hard time right now. The reason why I think it is such a hard time is because of all the uncertainty going on. There are so many unknown things about this virus going around and lets face it people fear the unknown. It is a hard thing when you are a person who likes to have things mapped out and scheduled way in advance. You like to take control of things and at the moment you may not be able to. I want to encourage all of you to stay in God's word during this time of social distancing and to rely on him! In Matthew chapter six Jesus tells us to seek first the kingdom of God! When we do this we are putting God first over everything else in our lives and I guarantee you that it will all work better for us. I long to be with you all again soon!

In Him, Landon
