

EDDIE’S EDITORIAL

I appreciate the comments on the lesson last Sunday morning. I think we need to be reminded from time to time how fortunate we to have the word of God so available to us at all times. Sometimes we take it for granted and fail to realize the importance of reading and applying it to our lives. There are those in the world who don’t have the access we have to the Bible. When we saw the short video of those in China who were receiving a Bible for the first time it caused all of us to think.

But just having a Bible will do us no good unless we read, study and apply what is written. May we commit ourselves to more study and application each day. If God values His word more than His name shouldn’t we do the same?

Be praying and inviting for our upcoming Vacation Bible School. It is soon approaching. Looking forward to seeing you Sunday. Eddie

Be thankful for a messy house. It means you have a family.

Be thankful for the taxes you pay. It means you have a job.

Be thankful for the clothes that fit a little snug. It means you have plenty to eat.

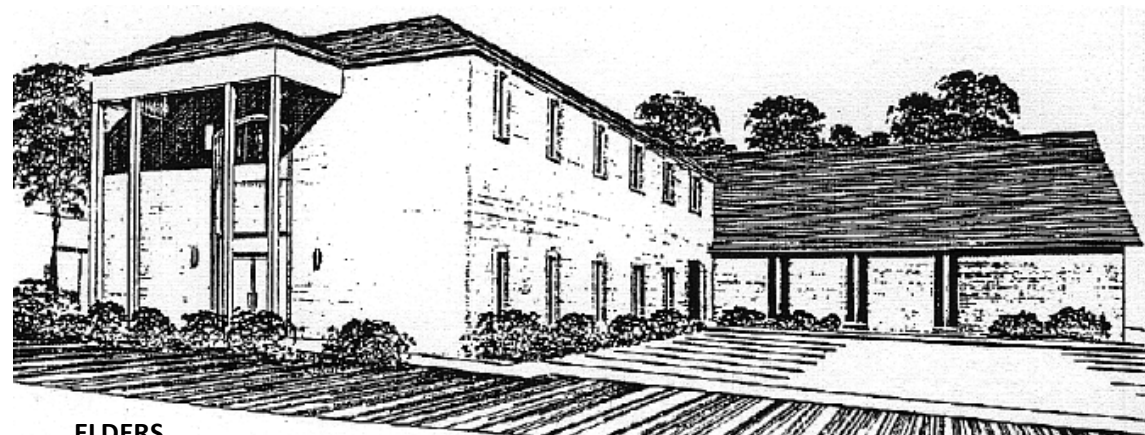

Be thankful for dirty clothes. It means you are able to work.

Be thankful for the alarm clock that goes off early in the morning. It means you have lived to see another day.

Be thankful for aching muscles. It means you have been productive.
